Resolution No. L-306

RESOLUTION

RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING DISCLOSURE OF COMMISSION
CONSUMER SERVICES DIVISION (UTILITIES SAFETY BRANCH)
RECORDS PURSUANT TO PUBLIC RECORDS ACT REQUEST BY TIMOTHY SMITH, ESQ., ON BEHALF OF TIMOTHY FIELDING, SEEKING DISCLOSURE OF COMMISSION STAFF INVESTIGATIVE RECORDS
RELATING TO THE TRENCH COLLAPSE IN RIO LINDA CALIFORNIA ON SEPTEMBER 16, 2001 (INCIDENT REPORT NO. GIR20010916-01).

BACKGROUND

On December 19, 2002, Timothy Smith of the Law Offices of McKinly and Smith, subpoenaed the Commission requesting the complete results of the CPUC investigation related to the trench collapse in Rio Linda, California on September 16, 2001, including all reports generated. Mr. Timothy Fielding was allegedly injured when a trench, under the control of Pacific Gas and Electric Company, collapsed. Mr. Timothy Smith represents Mr. Timothy Fielding in a claim arising from this incident.

On June 2, 2003, Commission staff counsel wrote to Mr. Smith, regarding this subpoena, informing him that Commission investigation records could not be released because Public Utilities Code § 583 and General Order 66-C limit staff's disclosure of the accident records at issue in the absence of a Commission order, or disclosure in the course of a formal hearing or proceeding.¹

¹ Public Utilities Code § 583 states: "No information furnished to the commission by a public utility . . . shall be open to public inspection . . . except on order of the commission, or by the commission or a commissioner in the course of a hearing or proceeding . . ." PU Code § 583 "assures that staff will not disclose information received from regulated utilities unless that disclosure is in the context of a Commission proceeding or is otherwise ordered by the Commission." (Decision (D.) 91-12-019 (1991) 42 Cal. P.U.C. 2d 298, 300.)

Though not admissible in court, the release of these documents may result in early resolution of the matter.

DISCUSSION

The requested investigation records and reports are “public records” as defined by the California Public Records Act (PRA). (Government Code § 6250 et seq.) The general policy of the PRA favors disclosure of public records, and a justification for withholding a public record in response to a PRA request must be found either among the specified exemptions listed in the Act, or a showing that, on the facts of a particular case, the public interest in confidentiality clearly outweighs the public interest in disclosure. In response to a subpoena for Commission records, a justification for withholding records must be based upon a privilege, since PRA exemptions have no impact on discovery. (Government Code § 6260.) Commission decisions regarding disclosure of public records must be consistent with the PRA and relevant discovery law.

The Commission has exercised its discretion under Public Utilities Code § 583, and implemented its responsibility under Government Code § 6253.4 (a), by adopting guidelines for public access to Commission records (General Order 66-C). These guidelines were adopted in Resolution L-151 “[i]n compliance with the legislative mandate and policy expressed in” the PRA, and are required by Government Code § 6253.4 (b) to be consistent with the PRA and reflect the intention of the Legislature to make agency records accessible to the public. The Commission must implement General Order 66-C, and other Commission regulations or decisions regarding disclosure, in a manner consistent with the PRA and other laws governing disclosure of records and information.

General Order 66-C § 1.1 provides that Commission records are public, except “as otherwise excluded by this General Order, statute, or other order, decision, or rule.” General Order 66-C, § 2.2 (a) provides the most relevant exclusion, for “Records of investigations and audits made by the Commission, except to the extent disclosed at a hearing or by formal Commission action.” Safety records excluded from mandatory disclosure by § 2.2 (a) are subject to one or more PRA exemptions, Evidence Code privileges, and/or other legal restrictions on disclosure. For example, Evidence Code § 6254 (f) exempts investigatory and security files compiled by any other state or local agency for correctional, law enforcement, or licensing purposes;² and Government Code

² Government Code § 6254 (f). Among other things, § 6254 (f) permits agencies to engage in confidential investigative deliberations before initiating formal enforcement proceedings. See, e.g., Hanie v. Superior Court (2001) 26 Cal.4th 1061. The Commission enforces safety laws directly and cooperates with law enforcement agencies in investigations that may result in civil or criminal sanctions. (See, e.g., Public Utilities Code §§ 2106-2112.) Commission safety investigations are primarily undertaken to determine: 1) whether a regulated entity has acted unlawfully; 2) what caused an incident; and 3) what steps may be taken to avoid future incidents. To the extent our investigation records are compiled for law enforcement purposes, they are exempt from mandatory disclosure under Government Code § 6254 (f). The § 6254 (k) exempts records, the disclosure of which is prohibited by law, or which are subject to a state or federal privilege against disclosure, including those listed in the Evidence Code. The primary Evidence Code privileges applicable to Commission incident investigation records include the lawyer client privilege (Evidence Code § 950 et seq.), and the official information privilege (Evidence Code § 1040). In some cases, other privileges or other restrictions on disclosure may also apply.

General Order 66-C § 2.2 (a), limits staff's ability to disclose Commission safety investigation records upon receipt of a PRA request or a subpoena in the absence of a Commission order authorizing disclosure or disclosure during the course of a proceeding. For this reason, staff denies most initial PRA requests, and subpoenas, seeking Commission investigation records, notes the General Order 66-C §3.4 option for appealing to the Commission for disclosure of the records, and, if an appeal is received, prepares a draft resolution for the Commission's consideration. Public Utilities Code § 583 does not in any way preclude Commission disclosure of information received from utilities. (See, e.g., Re Southern California Edison [Decision (D.) 91012-019] (1991) 42 CPUC 2d 298, 301; see also, Southern California Edison Company v. Westinghouse Electric Corporation, 892 Fed. 2d 778, 783 (9th Cir., 1989).) Nor, of course, does General Order 66-C, which in § 3.4 expressly notes the possibility for disclosure in response to an appeal of an initial denial of access to records. General Order 66-C §3.4 states:

A person wishing to review records, which are not open to public inspection, may write to the Secretary in San Francisco, indicating the records being withheld, and stating the reasons why these records should be disclosed to him. Sufficient time must be allowed for the full Commission to review this request and the applicable records.

The fact that records may fall within a PRA exemption does not preclude the Commission from authorizing disclosure of the records. With the exception of the exemption for records the disclosure of which is barred by law, PRA exemptions are discretionary, rather than mandatory, and the Commission is free to refrain from asserting such exemptions when it finds that disclosure is appropriate, except as otherwise prohibited by law. (Government Code §6253 (e); Black Panthers v. Kehoe (1974) 42 Cal. App.3d 645, 656.)

Applying the relevant statutes to the facts of this case argues for the disclosure of the requested investigation records. One person suffered injuries and three others died allegedly due to the collapse of this trench, and disclosure of the investigation records

Commission is not a traditional law enforcement agency such as a police department, and thus is not subject to the mandatory limited disclosure requirements of Government Code § 6254 (f)(2).

may assist in the settlement of litigation resulting from the accident. (See, Order Denying Rehearing of Resolution L-240 (1993) 49 CPUC 2d 241, 243.)

There are no compelling reasons to withhold the requested information. People who are injured are entitled to pursue discovery regarding the cause of the injury. We have during the past ten years ordered disclosure of records of numerous completed safety investigations, finding that disclosure of such records will not interfere with the Commission's investigations, but may lead to discovery of admissible evidence and aid in the resolution of litigation regarding the accident/incident under investigation. (E.g., Commission Resolutions L-240 Re San Diego Gas & Electric Company, rehearing denied in D.90-05-020 (1993) CPUC 2d 241; L-248 Re Lopez 1 (April 26, 1995); L-249 (August 11, 1995); L-255 Re Murrillo (1997); L-257 Re Johnson (1997); L-260 Re Banda (1997); L-262 Re Peralta and Boyadjian (1997); L-263 Re Schwab (1997); L-265 Re Johnson 2 (1998); L-271 Re City of Pinole (1998); L-272 Re Johnson 3 (1998); L-273 Re Disney (1998); L-275 Re Lopez (1998); L-278 Re Turner (1999); L-279 Re Rodriguez (1999); L-280 Re Kimball (1999); L-286 Re EBMUD (1999); L-289 Re Cornelius (2000); L-290 Re Grady Plumbing (2000); L-291 Re Morales (2001); L-292 Re White (2001); L-295 Re Maldonado-Colin (2001); L-297 Re Kuno's Grading (2002); L-298 Re Wilson (2002); and L-300 Re Teegardin (2002). Most of these resolutions responded to disclosure requests and/or subpoenas from individuals involved in electric or gas utility incidents (accidents), the families of such individuals, the legal representatives of such individuals or families, or the legal representatives of a defendant, or potential defendant, in litigation related to an accident/incident.

We have found that Public Utilities Code § 315, which expressly prohibits the introduction of accident reports filed with the Commission, or orders and recommendations issued by the Commission, "as evidence in any action for damages based on or arising out of such loss of life, or injury to person or property," offers utilities sufficient protection against injury caused by the release of requested investigation records.

If accident reports filed by utilities with the Commission, or records of an investigation completed by Commission staff, contain any confidential personal information, or other privileged or exempt information, the redaction of which is permitted by law, such information need not be disclosed.

The Draft Resolution of the Legal Division in this matter was mailed to the parties in interest on September 30, 2003, in accordance with PU Code § 311(g). One comment was received on October 20, 2003 from Mr. Blay of Matheny, Sears, Linkert, and Long, who represent co-defendant Nordic Industries, Inc. The commentor noted that it did not object to disclosure but reserved its right to comment at the public meeting. The commentor also stated that the underlying lawsuit has been consolidated with other cases. No reply comments were received.

FINDINGS OF FACT

1. On December 19, 2001, Timothy Smith of the Law Offices of McKinly and Smith, subpoenaed the Commission requesting the complete results of the CPUC investigation relating to the trench collapse in Rio Linda, California on September 16, 2001, including all reports generated. Mr. Fielding was allegedly injured when a trench, under the control of Pacific Gas and Electric Company, collapsed. Mr. Timothy Smith represents Mr. Timothy Fielding in a claim arising from this incident.
2. The information in the requested Commission investigation records concerns an injury sustained by Mr. Timothy Fielding, and appears relevant to litigation concerning the incident in which the injury was sustained.
3. The Commission's investigation of the September 16, 2001 trench collapse in Rio Linda, California has been closed, and, therefore the disclosure of the investigation records compiled by the Commission would not compromise the investigation.
4. The public interest favors disclosure of the requested investigation records.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

1. The material in the requested investigation file and report are public records as defined by Government Code § 6250 et seq.
2. The general policy of the California Public Records Act favors disclosure of records.
3. Justification for withholding a public record in response to a Public Records Act request must be based on specific exemptions in the Public Records Act or upon a showing that, on the facts of a particular case, the public interest in nondisclosure clearly outweighs the public interest in disclosure. (Government Code § 6255.)
4. Justification for withholding a public record in response to a subpoena or other discovery procedure must be based upon a privilege against disclosure, since Public Records Act exemptions have not effect of discovery. (Government Code § 6260.)
5. The Commission has exercised its discretion under Public Utilities Code § 583 to limit staff disclosure of investigation records in the absence of formal action by the Commission or disclosure during the course of a Commission proceeding. (General Order 66-C § 2.2 (a).)
6. Public Utilities Code § 583 does not limit the Commission's disclosure of records.

ORDER
